Montana Clergy Invited to Discussion on Religion and Conservation after Jane Goodall Lecture

Dr. Jane Goodall, founder of the Jane Goodall Institute and a United Nations Messenger of Peace, will deliver "A Reason for Hope" at 6 p.m. Monday, April 28, at MSU's Brick Breeden Fieldhouse. There is no admission charge to Goodall's MSU Wallace Stegner Lecture, but seating is limited. Doors will open at 4:30 p.m. and tickets will be distributed on a first-come, first-served basis.

On April 29, the morning after Dr. Goodall's presentation, The Tributary Fund will host a free-of-charge breakfast dialogue for Montana clergy to discuss Goodall's message and the broader topic of Christianity, ethics and conservation. For clergy members who can participate in the breakfast discussion on the 29th, The Tributary Fund has limited complimentary reserved seating to the Goodall lecture the night before. Please call The Tributary Fund at 585-5560 about special seating, and to register and find out more about the breakfast discussion at 8-10 a.m. on Tuesday, April 29 at the Emerson Cultural Center Weaver Room.
